

Függelék

A “Religions and Churches in a Common Europe Conference-lecture” című angolnyelvű kötetbe tervezett tanulmányok jegyzéke

- Botos Katalin (Pázmány Péter Catholic University of Budapest): Economic teaching of world religions and Europe’s competitiveness
- D’Agostino, Federico (University of Rome III): The “ground bass” of religiosity as a challenge to the process of secularisation
- Faltin, Lucia MA (University of Cambridge): Vital coexistence: Religion and Secularism in further European integration. Tomas Masaryk Revisited
- Galatik, Michael (University of Wien): The Christian in the market of audiovisual communication
- Gutierrez, Torres Alejandro (Public University of Navarra): Church and State Relations in Portugal
- Hermann Judit (Sternberg fellow of CJCR Cambridge): The Significance of Teaching and Research in Christian Jewish Relations.
- Herrmann, Peter (University of Cork/Ireland and University of Kuopio/Finland): Religion, Nation, Market – Government and Governance
- Illyés Szabolcs (University of Szeged): Charismatic ways of the media-evangelization trends in Central and Eastern Europe
- Izsák Norbert (HVG, Budapest): What is Emerging in Western Europe/USA? The Emerging Church in the Post-Christendom Culture – Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats
- Jávor Benedek (Pázmány Péter Catholic University, Budapest): Religious Identities and Environmental Attitudes in Hungary
- Knoll, Reinhold (University of Vienna): The Price of Secularisation
- Korpics Márta (University of Pécs): The scenes of the church communication in the light of a research
- Kuburic, Zorica (University of Novi Sad): Religious Identity and Political Nationalism
- Máté-Tóth András (University of Szeged): Discourse on Religion in Central and Eastern Europe
- Mortensen, Viggo (University of Aarhus): Religious Research in Europe

- Nagy Endre (Semmelweis University, Budapest): Churches in Europe in Light of the Thought of Simone Weil
- P. Szilczl Dóra (Pázmány Péter Catholic University of Budapest): The categories of „private” and „public” in the research of church communication
- Pickel Gert (University of Leipzig): Secularisation, Individualization or Market Approach? Results from the “Church and Religion in an Enlarged Europe” Project
- Rasmusson, Arne (University of Umeå): The Church as Polis
- Ricceri Marco (EURISPES, Rome): Religious messages and the world of the media: trends and experiences in Europe in the field of religious communication and information Systems
- Rixer, Adam: Historical Background of the Relationship between the State and Churches in Hungary
- Weiss, Johannes (University of Kassel): On the conversion of religious energy in European culture
- Wildmann János (University of Pécs): Religious Euro-skepticism in Hungary
- Wilkes, George (St. Edmund’s College, Cambridge): Christians, Jews and Muslims – A special role in the development of European Conflict Prevention Policies?